INTRODUCTION

This report deals with criminal cases finalised by the NSW Local, District and Supreme Courts in 1999 and in Children's Courts in 1998/99. The report provides statistical information on all criminal matters finalised by the District and Supreme Courts in 1999. However, minor criminal matters heard in Local Courts, such as appeals against parking fines, are not included in the report.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Bureau is grateful for the support provided by court staff and by the Department of Juvenile Justice in supplying the data for this report.

The data for most Local Courts were provided by the Clerks of the Court who completed and returned coding forms for each person appearing before the Local Courts on criminal charges. For those Local Courts on the GLC (General Local Courts) computer system, data were obtained from this system with the assistance and co-operation of the information technology support team in Local Courts Administration.

The data for the Higher Courts were obtained from the Case Tracking System, an administrative computer system used by District Courts Registry staff. The Bureau would like to express its gratitude for the assistance provided by the Information Technology Branch and the District Court Criminal Registry in obtaining the information from the computer system.

The Department of Juvenile Justice provided tabulations of data for the Children's Courts.

The following officers of the Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research also contributed significantly to the production of this report:

- Team management: Tracy Painting, Mark Ramsay,
Rey Torres (Higher Courts),
Rita Breheny (Local Courts)

SUMMARY OF MAIN FEATURES

LOCAL COURTS

The number of criminal cases disposed of by NSW Local Courts increased by 13.3 per cent from 117,053 cases in 1998 to 132,635 cases in 1999.

Charges (Tables 1.1 and 1.2)

Table 1.1 shows the number of persons charged (number of court appearances) and the number of charges finalised in 1999 by offence category. Note that for persons charged, the sub-totals and totals do not sum across offence categories (see Explanatory Notes: Local Courts Tables in this publication for further information). Finalised charges are those fully determined by the court, requiring no further court proceedings. In 1999, over one-third of all finalised charges were for driving offences (76,144 charges, 35.4%). The next largest categories of offence charged in 1999 were theft offences (41,930 charges, 19.5%) and against the person offences (27,628, 12.8%). Almost 60 per cent of the driving offences are listed in the other driving offences sub-category which covers offences under the Traffic Act such as exceed speed limit, unlicensed driver, drive unregistered vehicle, drive whilst disqualified from holding licence and drive whilst licence cancelled/refused. In 1998, the proportions of charges in the three principal categories noted above were similar to those of 1999 (driving offences – 34.4%, theft offences – 19.1% and against the person offences – 14.2 %).<sup>1</sup>

All offence categories showed increases between 1998 and 1999 in the number of charges finalised in NSW Local Courts. Some of the apparent increase is due to a change in the method of counting charges. In earlier reports in this series a maximum of four charges were counted for each person appearing before the Local Courts. In this report all charges are counted for persons appearing in those courts where the computerised General Local Court system (GLC) is in use. Approximately one-third of matters are heard before GLC courts. Of the overall increase of 30,210 in the number of charges heard before Local Courts between 1998 and 1999, 6,107 are due to the change in the method of counting. The biggest increases are evident in the against good order, environmental, other, driving, theft and drug offence categories. Because of the change in the method of counting charges it is not useful to examine the size of the changes in detail.

In the against good order offence category there were large increases in other offences, offensive behaviour offences and weapons offences, but a fall in prostitution offences. The largest increase in the number of charges within the driving offences category was for other driving offences. There were also increases of more than 10 per cent in PCA - low range, PCA - medium range and DUI alcohol/drug offences. There was a fall in the number of charges for cause injury by driving. Fraud, unlawful possession, other larceny and break and enter offences all showed large increases in the theft offence category, but there was a small fall in the number of charges for motor vehicle theft. It is likely that the big increase in the number of fraud charges is due to the changed method of counting, as fraud cases often include large numbers of charges. The drug offence category shows large increases in the number of charges for all possession/use, and dealing and trafficking offences but falls in the number of charges for manufacturing and/or growing cannabis, and manufacturing and/or growing other drug.

Table 1.2 shows the outcome of charges in appearances finalised in NSW Local Courts in 1999. Compared with the data reported in the 1998 publication, there has been a greater than three-fold increase in the number of charges finalised by ex parte conviction. This is mainly due to the method of identifying ex parte matters for both GLC and non-GLC data collection procedures. In previous years this category included only those defendants for whom a warrant was issued under section 80AA of the Justices Act. New codes for recording pleas and a redefinition of the outcome code for ex parte matters means that all ex parte finalisations are now included. The introduction of written pleas in NSW Local Courts in late 1998 is another factor contributing to the increase in the number of finalisations by ex parte conviction. The proportion of offences proven increased between 1998 and 1999 from 82.8 per cent to 85.2 per cent of offences.

Persons (Tables 1.3 to 1.6)

Table 1.3 details the outcome of appearance for persons charged in Local Courts in 1999. The number of persons found guilty of at least one charge (including those who pleaded guilty) increased between 1998 and 1999 while the percentage of persons found guilty remained relatively stable. There were 116,806 persons (88.1%) found guilty in 1999 compared with 100,934 (86.2%) in 1998.

Table 1.4 details the outcome of appearance for persons who were charged in NSW Local Courts in 1999 and who identified themselves as Aboriginal people or Torres Strait Islanders. Overall, a smaller proportion of Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders were found guilty compared with all persons, as shown in Table 1.3. In 1999, 85.6 per cent of all Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders whose cases were finalised were found guilty (including those who pleaded guilty), compared with 88.1 per cent of all persons in NSW whose cases were finalised. A larger proportion of Aboriginal people or Torres Strait Islanders were convicted ex parte in 1999 (26.5% of finalisations, compared with 22.2 % of finalisations for all NSW persons), but a smaller proportion pleaded guilty (49.5%, compared with 56.7% for all persons).

Table 1.5 shows the outcome of appearance by legal representation for persons charged in Local Court appearances finalised during 1999. In 1999, 52.1 per cent of all persons for whom charges were finalised in NSW Local Courts were known to have legal representation (69,155 persons) compared with 54.9 per cent (64,291 persons) in 1998, continuing a decrease from 1996 and 1997 (when 58.7% and 56.2% respectively had legal representation). In 1999, 87.1 per cent of persons with legal representation were found guilty (including those who pleaded guilty) compared with 86.1 per cent in 1998. For persons without legal representation, 89.2 per cent were found guilty (a large proportion of these were convicted ex parte) while in 1998, 86.6 per cent were found guilty.

Table 1.6 shows the bail status of all persons charged in Local Court appearances finalised in 1999. The proportion of persons for whom bail was refused increased slightly from 1998 to 1999, with 4.8 per cent of all persons charged in 1999 (6,415 persons) being refused bail, compared with 4.6 per cent (5,374 persons) in 1998 refused bail. In 1999, 23.1 per cent of persons were on bail and 70.4 per cent were appearing for summons cases or had bail dispensed with, compared with 24.6 per cent of persons on bail and 67.8 per cent summons cases or bail dispensed with in 1998.

Penalties (Tables 1.7 to 1.12)

Table 1.7 gives details of the numbers of penalties, Table 1.9 gives the percentage of penalties imposed and Table 1.11 shows the average duration or value of penalty imposed for the principal offence of those persons who were found guilty in Local Court appearances finalised in 1999. Imprisonment was imposed on 6.6 per cent of those found guilty in 1999, compared with 7.0 per cent in 1998 and 6.4 per cent in 1997. In terms of numbers of people, 7,121 persons were given prison sentences in 1999, compared with 6,612 in 1998, an increase of 7.7 per cent.

Excluding offences with very low numbers of persons found guilty, the offences with the highest imprisonment rates in 1999 (that is, offences with the highest proportion of persons found guilty of the offence being sentenced to imprisonment) were break and enter (44.6% of guilty persons imprisoned in 1999 compared with 42.9% in 1998), dealing and trafficking in opiates (41.2% in 1999, 39.5% in 1998) and vehicle theft (35.1% in 1999, 34.0% in 1998).

The offences with the highest prevalence of imprisonment (that is, those offences which result in the largest numbers of persons found guilty being sentenced to imprisonment) in 1999 were breach of order (11.7% of all imprisonments in 1999 compared with 12.9% in 1998), break and enter (11.7% in 1999, 11.0% in 1998) and other driving (11.1% in 1999, 7.6% in 1998).

The distribution of penalty imposition for principal offence, as shown in Table 1.9, remains essentially unchanged from 1998 to 1999. Fines were the principal penalty imposed for 58.6 per cent of Local Court appearances finalised in 1999 (compared with 58.5% in 1998), Community Service Orders for 5.5 per cent (5.7% in 1998) and recognizance for 20.6 per cent (20.8 per cent in 1998).

The average duration of imprisonment, home detention, periodic detention, community service order and recognizance penalties and the average amount of fines are shown in Table 1.11. The average duration of imprisonment imposed on persons whose cases were finalised in the Local Courts in 1999 was 4.8 months. Excluding offences with very small numbers of persons sentenced to prison, the longest average sentences were imposed on persons convicted of manufacturing and/or growing other drug (9.0 months), arson, damage by fire (7.8 months), break and enter (7.6 months), and sexual offences against children (7.4 months). The average duration of home detention imposed by the Local Courts in 1999 was 5.7 months, while the average duration of periodic detention was 6.3 months.

Table 1.8, Table 1.10 and Table 1.12 give details of the penalties imposed for the principal offence of those persons found guilty in Local Court appearances finalised in 1999 who identified themselves as Aboriginal people or Torres Strait Islanders. Imprisonment was imposed on 15.2 per cent of these persons who were found guilty in 1999 (16.5% in 1998) compared with 6.6 per cent of all NSW persons in 1999 (7.0% in 1998).

Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders were more likely than NSW persons overall (as shown in Table 1.9 and Table 1.10) to be sentenced to imprisonment after conviction for offences in almost all offence categories. For example, 21.0 per cent of Aboriginal people or Torres Strait Islanders who were found guilty of against the person offences (including assault, sexual assault and sexual offences against children) were imprisoned (21.7% in 1998). The proportion of NSW persons overall was 9.5 per cent of all convictions for against the person offences (9.1% in 1998). Similarly, for theft offences, 29.9 per cent of Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders, who were convicted, were sentenced to prison in 1999 (29.4% in 1998), compared with 16.0 per cent of convicted NSW persons overall (16.2% in 1998).

The offences with the highest prevalence of imprisonment (that is, those offences which result in the largest numbers of persons found guilty being sentenced to a term of imprisonment) in 1999 for Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders were other assault comprising 16.9 per cent of all imprisonments for Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders compared with 9.8 per cent for NSW persons overall (17.6% for Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders and 10.7% for NSW persons overall in 1998), break and enter (12.3% and 11.7% in 1999, 10.0% and 11.0% in 1998), assault occasioning actual bodily harm (11.6% and 5.3% in 1999, 10.4% and 5.1% in 1998) and breach of order (10.9% and 11.7%, in 1999, 12.4% and 12.9% in 1998).

A comparison of Table 1.9 and Table 1.10 shows that, in the NSW Local Courts in 1999, convicted Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders were more likely than convicted NSW persons overall to receive the penalties of imprisonment (15.2% for Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders compared with 6.6% for NSW persons overall in 1999, 16.5% and 7.0% in 1998) or a Community Service Order (7.8% and 5.5% in 1999, 7.3% and 5.7% in 1998). Fines were less likely to be imposed on Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders than on NSW persons overall sentenced in NSW Local Courts (50.2% for Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islanders compared with 58.6% for NSW persons overall in 1999, 50.3% and 58.5% in 1998). Note, however, that prior convictions have not been taken into account in this comparison. Note, further, that the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander defendants included in this table are only those proceeded against by way of a charge or Court Attendance Notice rather than by a summons and therefore defendants with less serious offences may not be included.

Convicted persons, by age and gender (Tables 1.13 to 1.14)

The discussion of the data in Tables 1.13, 1.13a, 1.13b and 1.14 excludes offences where the number of defendants is very small (i.e. less than 100 defendants).

Table 1.13, Table 1.13a and Table 1.13b detail the age and sex, by offence, of persons found guilty in Local Court appearances finalised in 1999, as well as the average age by offence type. Of all persons found guilty in NSW Local Courts in 1999, 83.2 per cent were male and 16.8 per cent were female. These proportions are little changed from 1998 (83.0% male and 17.0% female).

Although approximately 17 per cent of persons found guilty in NSW Local Courts in 1999 were female, the proportion of females found guilty of each particular offence varied greatly from this overall figure. Offences where the person found guilty was likely to be female in disproportionate numbers to the total number of females overall include prostitution (82.3% female), larceny by shop stealing (42.2%), fraud (29.4%) and other larceny (28.2%). On the other hand, offences which show notably larger percentages of males being found guilty include sexual assault (99.1% male, compared with 83.2% overall), weapons offences (93.7%), sexual offences against children (99.0%), break and enter (92.3%) and vehicle theft (87.8%).

The average age of persons found guilty in NSW Local Court appearances finalised in 1999 was 31.2 years. Convicted females were slightly older, with an average age of 31.4 years, compared with an average age of 31.1 years for males. The offence for which the average age of convicted persons in the Local Courts was highest was that of sexual offences against children (average age 39.7 years) followed by sexual assault (average age 39.3 years). The lowest average age for persons found guilty in NSW Local Court appearances finalised in 1999 was for persons found guilty of break and enter (average age 25.8 years) and vehicle theft (average age 25.8 years).

Table 1.14 shows the distribution of age by offence category for males and females found guilty in Local Court appearances finalised in 1999. For males found guilty in Local Court appearances finalised in 1999, 11.9 per cent were less than 20 years of age. This younger age group was over-represented in a number of offences, for example, vehicle theft (23.7% aged less than 20 years), offensive behaviour (20.5% aged less than 20 years) and break and enter (19.4% aged less than 20 years). Only 6.9 per cent of finalised appearances for males involved persons aged 50 years or more. Older males were over-represented in the offences of sexual assault (27.5% aged 50 years or more), sexual offences against children (24.0% aged 50 years or more) and weapons offences (16.9% aged 50 years or more).

For females found guilty in Local Court appearances finalised in 1999, 10.6 per cent were less than 20 years of age. This group was over-represented in vehicle theft (20.9% aged less than 20 years), offensive behaviour (18.1% aged less than 20 years), break and enter (16.7% aged less than 20 years) and possession and/or use of opiates (16.7% aged less than 20 years). Only 5.8 per cent of finalised appearances for females involved persons aged 50 years or more. Older females were significantly over-represented in the offences of dangerous, reckless or negligent driving (17.5% aged 50 years or more) and fraud (12.9% aged 50 years or more).

Court delay (Table 1.15)

Table 1.15 shows the median duration of cases in NSW Local Courts in 1999. From first court appearance to the determination of charges, the median duration decreased or was unchanged for all defendants on bail and overall between 1998 and 1999. Overall, where the matter proceeded to a defended hearing the median delay from first court appearance to determination fell from 96.0 to 92.0 days where all charges were dismissed, from 77.0 to 65.0 days for persons who were found guilty of at least one charge, and from 92.0 to 91.0 days for other defended hearings.

Region (Tables 1.16 and 1.17)

The numbers of Local Court appearances and rates per 100,000 population are shown by Statistical Division in NSW and Statistical Subdivision in Sydney in Table 1.16. Between 1998 and 1999, there were increases in the rate of court appearance in every Statistical Subdivision of Sydney. The Statistical Subdivisions with the greatest rate increases were Outer Western Sydney (25.8%), Northern Beaches (18.6%), Fairfield – Liverpool (16.4%) and Central Western Sydney (15.6%). Outside Sydney, there were increases in every Statistical Division. The greatest increases were in the Far West (41.0%), Illawarra (16.1%), Central West (15.3%) and Richmond – Tweed (14.7%) Statistical Divisions.

Overall, the Statistical Subdivisions within Sydney had the lowest rates of court appearance in NSW. The Sydney Subdivisions with the highest Local Court appearance rates in 1999 were the Inner Sydney Subdivision (2,769.1 appearances before Local Courts per 100,000 population), Outer South Western Sydney (2,760.9 per 100,000 population), Fairfield – Liverpool (2,418.6 per 100,000 population), and Blacktown – Baulkham Hills (2,208.3). Outside Sydney, the Far West Statistical Division had the highest rate of Local Court appearances in 1999, also the highest in NSW (4,532.9 per 100,000 population), followed by the North Western (3,680.6).

Table 1.17 details court appearance rates by NSW Statistical Division of residence for selected offences. In 1999, court appearance rates for most categories of offence were highest in the country areas of NSW. The Far West and North Western Statistical Divisions of NSW had the highest Local Court appearance rates for against the person offences, property damage, against justice procedures offences, offences against good order and driving offences. Court appearance rates for drug offences were highest in the Richmond – Tweed Statistical Division, followed by the Inner Sydney Statistical Subdivision. The only offences which showed highest appearance rates in the Sydney region were theft and environmental offences. The highest rate of appearance for theft offences occurred in the Inner Sydney Statistical Subdivision, followed by the North Western Statistical Division. The court appearance rate for environmental offences was highest in the St George – Sutherland and Inner Western Sydney Statistical Subdivisions.

Apprehended Violence Orders (Table 1.18)

Table 1.18 details the numbers of apprehended violence orders (AVOs) granted in NSW Local Courts during 1999 and rates per 100,000 population for residence of applicant by Statistical Subdivision in Sydney and Statistical Division in country NSW. In total, 22,252 AVOs were granted in NSW Local Courts in 1999, 67.1 per cent of these for domestic violence and 32.9 per cent for personal violence. Between 1998 and 1999, there was a 1.8 per cent decrease in the total number of AVOs granted in NSW, the decrease being greater for domestic violence (down by 2.1%) than for personal violence AVOs (down by 1.0%).

When examined on a regional basis, Apprehended Violence Orders for both domestic and personal violence are given far more frequently per capita in country areas of NSW than in the Sydney region. All country Statistical Divisions have rates above the average for NSW. The highest rates of domestic AVOs granted in 1999 occurred in the Far West (746.5 orders granted per 100,000 population in 1999), North Western (491.5), Mid-North Coast (423.8) and Central West (343.3) regions of country NSW. In the Sydney Statistical Division, three Statistical Subdivisions showed rates of domestic AVOs granted above the average NSW rate: Outer South Western Sydney (271.7 per 100,000 population), Gosford – Wyong (247.3) and Outer Western Sydney (244.1). Rates below the average NSW rate for domestic AVOs granted in 1999 were in the Sydney Statistical Division, with the lowest rates occurring in Hornsby – Ku-ring-gai (80.6) and the Lower Northern Sydney Subdivision (87.2). Rates of domestic AVOs granted have increased in 8 of the 11 Statistical Divisions outside Sydney but decreased in 10 of the 14 Statistical Subdivisions in Sydney, between 1998 and 1999. The greatest increase in rates occurred in the Central West Statistical Division (up by 13.4%), followed by the Northern Statistical Division (up by 12.1%). In Sydney the greatest increase was in the Hornsby – Ku-ring-gai Statistical Subdivision (up by 10.3%). The biggest decrease in rates occurred in the Fairfield – Liverpool Statistical Subdivision (down by 21.6%), followed by the Canterbury – Bankstown Statistical Subdivision (down by 16.3%) and the Inner Western Sydney Statistical Subdivision (down by 16.3%).

Country areas of NSW also had the highest rates of personal AVOs granted by NSW Local Courts in 1999. All Statistical Divisions had rates above the average NSW rate. In Sydney only the Inner Sydney Statistical Subdivision had a rate above the average NSW rate. Highest rates of personal AVOs granted occurred in the Far West Statistical Division (354.7 per 100,000 population), followed by North Western (335.9) and Richmond – Tweed (242.7). In Sydney the highest rates were in the Inner Sydney Statistical Subdivision (125.3 per 100,000 population) and Outer South Western Sydney (111.3).

Appearances and proven offences (Table 2.1)

Table 2.1 shows the number of court appearances (number of persons charged) and the number of persons with at least one offence proven in 1998/99 by principal offence category. Of the 13,672 appearances, 10,277 resulted in at least one proven offence (75.2%). The number of criminal matters brought before NSW Children's Court decreased by 12.8 per cent between 1997/98 and 1998/99 (from 15,672 to 13,672 matters). For each matter brought before the court, only the most serious charge for an individual having multiple charges is counted in the table.

In 1998/99, 37.2 per cent of principal offences were in the theft category (3,819 proven offences). This represents a fall of 24.0 per cent from 1997/98 (5,027 proven offences). The next largest categories of principal offence in 1998/99 were against the person offences (1,662 proven offences, 16.2%) and against good order offences (996 proven offences, 9.7%). Between 1997/98 and 1998/99 the number of principal offences in the other against the person and against good order offence categories fell by 7.6 per cent and 12.6 per cent, respectively. Assault was the most common principal offence in 1998/99 (1,570 proven offences, 15.3% of principal offences overall). The number of assaults as principal offences fell by 9.0 per cent between 1997/98 and 1998/99. Within the theft category, the most common principal offences were break and enter (1,304 proven offences, 12.7% of proven offences overall), other theft (896 offences, 8.7%) and motor vehicle theft (801 offences, 7.8%). The number of break and enter principal offences fell by 14.4 per cent, other theft principal offences declined 38.9 per cent and the number of motor vehicle theft principal offences was down by 24.9 per cent between 1997/98 and 1998/99.

Sex of defendant and bail status at final appearance (Table 2.2)

Table 2.2 shows the bail status of defendants appearing before the Children's Courts in 1998/99 by the gender of the defendant. Males made up 82.2 per cent of persons appearing before the Children's Court (11,237 males of 13,672 persons overall). The proportion of male defendants is virtually unchanged from 1997/98 (82.5%). A large proportion of defendants presented to court by summons or court attendance notice (50.3%) or while on bail (25.6%). The number and proportion of persons in custody when appearing before the Children's Court fell between 1997/98 and 1998/99. In 1998/99 788 persons (5.8%) were in custody compared with 972 persons (6.2%) in 1997/98.

Penalties (Table 2.3)

Table 2.3 shows penalties for the principal offence charged in NSW Children's Courts for 1998/99, by offence category. Committals to prisons and institutions are included in the 'control order' category.

The penalty most frequently imposed in the NSW Children's Court in 1998/99 was a recognizance, which was imposed in 2,236<sup>1</sup> cases (21.8% of all cases in which the offence was proven) compared with 3,023 cases in 1997/98 (25.2% of all cases in which the offence was proven) for which a recognizance was imposed. Other frequently imposed penalties were dismissed with caution (1,786 cases, 17.4% in 1998/99 compared with 2,760 cases, 23.0% in 1997/98), probation (1,715 cases, 16.7% in 1998/99 compared with 1,673 cases, 14.0% in 1997/98) and fine (1,568 cases, 15.3% in 1998/99 compared with 1,732 cases, 14.4% in 1997/98).

A higher proportion of offenders were given control orders in 1998/99 than in the previous year (8.5% in 1998/99 compared with 7.3% in 1997/98). Control orders were most commonly imposed for robbery (117 persons received a control order penalty representing 26.3% of all penalties for proven robbery offences in 1998/99 compared with 80 persons, 20.9% in 1997/98), break and enter (208 persons, 16.0% in 1998/99 compared with 177 persons, 11.6% in 1997/98), against justice procedures offences (78 persons, 14.0% in 1998/99 compared with 122 persons, 20.9% in 1997/98) and motor vehicle theft (92 persons, 11.5% in 1998/99 compared with 103 persons, 9.7% in 1997/98).

Age and sex of defendants (Tables 2.4, 2.4a and 2.4b)

Table 2.4 details the age of persons appearing in matters determined before the Children's Court in 1998/99 by type of offence. Tables 2.4a and 2.4b show the age of males and females respectively by offence type. Male defendants accounted for 82.2 per cent of all matters determined during 1998/99 (11,237 of the total 13,672 cases). The proportion of male defendants is virtually unchanged from the proportion in 1997/98 (12,934 of the total of 15,672 cases, 82.5%). The largest proportion of female defendants occurred in the 14 and 15 year age groups, where females made up 20.9 per cent of all cases in each age group, compared with 17.8 per cent of persons overall. The proportion of female defendants was lowest in the youngest age groups, with 4 females out of a total of 89 defendants aged 10 or 11 years (accounting for 4.5% of all defendants in each age group). Overall, the percentage of total defendants from each age group grows steadily with increasing age up to 17 years, from 0.2 per cent of defendants aged 10 years, up to 31.0 per cent of defendants aged 17 years.

Registrations (Table 3.1)

In 1999, there were 3,492 cases committed for trial or sentencing in the NSW Higher Courts, a decrease of 7.3 per cent from the total number of cases registered in 1998. The number of trial registrations decreased by 14.3 per cent between 1998 and 1999, while the number of sentence registrations increased by 16.5 per cent during the same period. Of the total number of cases registered in 1999, 71.2 per cent were trial case registrations (compared with 77.1% in 1998 and 78.2% in 1997).

The total number of case registrations in the NSW Supreme Court decreased by 28.0 per cent between 1998 and 1999 (from 100 to 72 cases). The number of cases committed for trial fell from 98 in 1998 to 71 in 1999 (a decrease of 27.6%). Very few cases are committed for sentencing in the Supreme Court (1 in 1999 and 2 in 1998).

In the District Court the number of cases committed for trial decreased by 13.8 per cent, from 2,805 in 1998 to 2,417 in 1999. The number of matters committed for sentence in the District Court increased by 16.6 per cent from 860 in 1998 to 1,003 in 1999. The Sydney Registry had the largest number of case registrations in 1999, accounting for 30.2 per cent of total registrations (compared with 24.8% in 1998). The Sydney West Registry had the next highest proportion of total case registrations (27.5%), followed by Newcastle (14.2%) and Wollongong (8.5%). All registries other than Dubbo, Lismore and Sydney recorded a decrease in the total number of case registrations between 1998 and 1999. Lismore Registry recorded a 22.6 per cent increase in total registrations, Dubbo Registry recorded a 15.9 per cent increase while the total number of case registrations in the Sydney Registry increased by 12.9 per cent.

Finalisations (Tables 3.2 to 3.6)

Table 3.2 shows the method of finalisation for trial and sentence cases in the NSW Higher Criminal Courts in 1999. There was a 2.1 per cent decrease in the total number of trial and sentence cases finalised, from 3,818 cases in 1998 to 3,739 in 1999. The total number of cases which were committed for trial and were finalised by any method in the NSW Higher Courts in 1999 decreased by 5.8 per cent (2,848 cases in 1999, compared with 3,022 in 1998), while the number of cases which were committed for sentence increased by 11.9 per cent during this period (891 cases in 1999 compared with 796 in 1998).

The total number of trials held fell from 938 in 1998 to 856 in 1999, a decrease of 8.7 per cent, while the total number of cases finalised in 1999 which had proceeded to sentence only increased by 3.0 per cent (2,266 in 1999 compared with 2,200 in 1998). The percentage of cases which proceeded to trial decreased, from 24.6 per cent in 1998 to 22.9 per cent of all finalised cases in 1999.

In the NSW Supreme Court the number of trials held fell from 61 in 1998 to 47 in 1999 (down by 23.0%) while the number of cases which were committed for trial but proceeded to sentence only increased by 6.7 per cent, from 30 in 1998 to 32 in 1999. The number of trials held in the District Court declined by 7.8 per cent from 877 in 1998 to 809 in 1999. The number of cases committed for trial but proceeding to sentence only in the District Court decreased by 2.5 per cent (from 1,416 in 1998 to 1,318 in 1999).

Table 3.3 details the year of committal for cases finalised in NSW Higher Courts in 1999. A lower percentage of both cases committed for trial, and cases committed for sentence, were finalised in the same year as committal in 1999, compared with 1998. For matters committed for trial, 27.0 per cent of cases finalised in 1999 had been committed in the same year (769 of 2,848 finalised cases), compared with 29.7 per cent (897 of 3,022 finalised trial cases) in 1998. Only 9.3 per cent of cases committed for trial in the NSW Supreme Court were finalised in the same year as committal in 1999. For all matters committed for sentence in the NSW Higher Courts, 67.2 per cent of cases finalised in 1999 had been committed in the same year, compared with 66.7 per cent in 1998.

Table 3.4 details the total number of persons charged, and the total number of charges, in the NSW Higher Courts, by type of offence charged. Note that for persons charged, the sub-totals and totals do not sum across offence categories (see Explanatory Notes: Higher Courts Tables in this publication for further information).

The most frequently charged offences in cases finalised in the Higher Courts in 1999 were against the person offences (2,873, or 40.3% of all charges). Within this category, the most frequently charged specific offence was assault, accounting for 13.5 per cent of all charges finalised in the Higher Courts in 1999. Theft offences were the next most frequently charged category of offence in cases finalised in 1999 (18.3% of all charges) followed by robbery offences (17.4% of all charges). Drug offences accounted for 12.2 per cent of all charges in 1999, the most prevalent category being dealing and trafficking offences (8.6% of all charges).

In 1999, 40.8 per cent of all persons charged in the Higher Courts were charged with an against the person offence, with 18.6 per cent of all persons charged with at least one assault offence. The next most frequently charged offence category for persons whose cases were finalised in the Higher Courts in 1999 was robbery and extortion (24.2% of persons charged). The third most frequently charged offence category was that of theft (20.7%). Of all persons charged in Higher Court cases finalised in 1999, 16.5 per cent were charged with at least one drug offence.

Table 3.5 shows the number of offences charged per person in trial and sentence cases finalised in the Higher Courts in 1999. Of 3,912 persons charged in finalised cases, 45.6 per cent were charged with only one offence and 30.3 per cent with two offences. In 1998, 40.9 per cent of persons were charged with one offence only and 31.8 per cent with two offences.

There was a decrease in the percentage of people who proceeded to trial, as shown in Table 3.6. In 1999, 22.7 per cent of all persons whose cases were finalised had proceeded to trial, compared with 24.3 per cent in 1998. In 1999, 60.7 per cent of all persons whose charges were finalised in the Higher Courts proceeded only to sentencing (57.5% in 1998). In the Supreme Court 52.6 per cent of persons proceeded to trial (53.9% in 1998) while 40.0 per cent proceeded to sentence only (31.3% in 1998). In the District Court 22.0 per cent of persons proceeded to trial (23.5% in 1998) and 61.2 per cent proceeded to sentence only (58.2% in 1998).

Penalties (Tables 3.7 to 3.9)

Table 3.7 shows that there were 2,826 persons found guilty (either by verdict or plea) in 1999, representing 72.2 per cent of all persons whose cases were finalised in that period. In 1998, 2,753 or 68.9 per cent of all defendants in finalised cases were found guilty.

Table 3.7 also gives details of the penalties imposed for the principal offence of those persons who were found guilty in trial and sentence cases finalised in NSW Higher Courts in 1999. The penalty most frequently imposed in 1999 was imprisonment, with 1,898 persons sentenced to a period of imprisonment in 1999, compared with 1,736 persons sentenced to imprisonment in 1998. The next most common penalty for persons found guilty was a Community Service Order (CSO). In 1999, 252 persons were given a Community Service order compared with 281 persons in 1998. The third most commonly imposed penalty was a recognizance with supervision (243 persons in 1999, 258 persons in 1998).

Table 3.8 shows the percentage of persons receiving each penalty in Higher Court cases finalised in 1999 by offence type. In 1999 67.2 per cent of persons were sentenced to imprisonment, an increase of 6.5% from 1998 (63.1% of persons found guilty sentenced to imprisonment). The percentage of persons receiving a CSO fell by 12.6 per cent from 1998 to 1999 (8.9% were given a CSO in 1999, 10.2% in 1998).

Table 3.9 shows the average magnitude of the penalties imposed by offence type. The average duration of imprisonment imposed on persons whose cases were finalised in the Higher Courts in 1999 was 26.2 months (28.0 months in 1998). The average duration of imprisonment imposed in 1999 decreased by 6.4 per cent from the average duration in 1998. The longest average sentences were imposed on persons convicted of murder, attempted murder and import/export drugs. The average magnitude of most penalties was lower in 1999 than in 1998.

Prior conviction (Table 3.10)

Table 3.10 shows the incidence of prior conviction for persons who were found guilty in trial and sentence cases finalised in NSW Higher Courts in 1999, by category of principal offence. Across all offence categories, a total of 40.2 per cent of persons found guilty in 1999 had no prior convictions. Most commonly those persons convicted of driving offences (73.3% had no prior convictions), fraud offences (68.9%) and sex offences (55.5%). Comparable percentages in 1998 were 40.0 per cent having no prior convictions across all offence categories, with 69.8 per cent for driving offences, 66.9 per cent for fraud offences and 50.2 per cent for sex offences.

Convicted persons, by age and gender (Tables 3.11 and 3.12)

Tables 3.11, 3.11a and 3.11b detail the age and sex, by offence, of persons found guilty in trial and sentence cases finalised in Higher Courts in 1999, as well as the average age by offence type. Of all persons found guilty in the NSW Higher Courts in 1999, 90.7 per cent were male and 9.3 per cent female. These proportions are similar to those in 1998 (91.2% male and 8.8% female).

The average age of persons found guilty in NSW Higher Court appearances finalised in 1999 was 31.4 years. Convicted females were slightly younger, with an average age of 30.3 years, compared with an average age of 31.5 years for males. The offence category for which the average age of convicted persons in the Higher Courts was highest was that of against the person offences. In particular, persons convicted of sexual offences against children had the highest average age of all specific offence categories (44.7 years). The lowest average age is for persons convicted of offences in the robbery and extortion category (25.1 years).

Table 3.12 shows the distribution of age by offence category for males and females found guilty in trial and sentence cases finalised in NSW Higher Courts in 1999. For males found guilty in Higher Court cases finalised in 1999, 13.2 per cent were under 20 years of age. This younger age group was over-represented in the specific offences of vehicle theft (42.1% aged under 20 years), robbery (27.0% aged under 20 years) and against good order offences (21.4% aged under 20 years). Only 7.7 per cent of finalised cases for males involved persons aged 50 years and over. Older males were over-represented in the specific offences of sexual offences against children (35.9% aged 50 years and over), sexual assault (27.5%) and import/export drugs (15.5%). Note that the percentage calculations for convicted females are based on small numbers.

Bail status (Table 3.13)

Table 3.13 shows the bail status at the time of the hearing which disposed of the matter for all persons charged in trial and sentence cases finalised in NSW Higher Courts in 1999. The proportion of persons in gaol with bail refused increased from 33.3 per cent of persons in 1998 (1,330 of 3,998 persons) to 34.7 per cent in 1999 (1,358 of 3,912 persons). Of these 1,358 persons in 1999, 7.5 per cent proceeded to trial and were found guilty of at least one charge, compared with 9.2 per cent in 1998. Most persons in gaol with bail refused (78.4%) proceeded to sentence only compared to only 50.9 per cent of persons on unconditional or conditional bail who proceeded to sentence only.

Court delay (Table 3.14)

Table 3.14 shows the median duration of cases in NSW Higher Courts in 1999, by outcome and bail status, for all Registries. The median delay from arrest to committal has generally increased for both defendants on bail and defendants remanded in custody. For persons on bail found guilty of at least one charge, delay from arrest to committal increased by 17.5 per cent (from 114.0 days in 1998 to 134.0 days in 1999). For those proceeding to sentence only the delay from arrest to committal rose by 13.4 per cent (from 97.0 days in 1998 to 110.0 days in 1999) and where no charges were proceeded with, the median delay increased by 12.1 per cent (from 111.5 days in 1998 to 125.0 days in 1999). For persons remanded in custody there were sizeable increases in delay for persons acquitted of all charges (up by 14.3% from 63.0 days in 1998 to 72.0 days in 1999), for persons proceeding to sentence only (up by 32.7% from 50.5 days in 1998 to 67.0 days in 1999) and where no charges were proceeded with (up by 38.7% from 59.5 days in 1998 to 82.5 days in 1999).

The median delay from committal to outcome showed increases for persons on bail of 15.1 per cent for those eventually acquitted of all charges (from 358.0 days in 1998 to 412.0 days in 1999) and 21.9 per cent for those found guilty of at least one charge (from 415.0 days in 1998 to 506.0 days in 1999). For persons on remand there were increases of 37.4 per cent for those found guilty of at least one charge (from 211.5 to 290.5 days) and 13.1 per cent for those proceeding to sentence only (from 99.0 to 112.0 days). The median delay from committal to outcome showed decreases for persons on remand who were eventually acquitted of all charges of 25.1 per cent (from 259.0 days in 1998 to 194.0 days in 1999) and 12.5 per cent where no charges were proceeded with (from 220.0 to 192.5 days).

Tables 3.14a to 3.14h detail median delays in 1999, by outcome and bail status for each Higher Court Registry in NSW. Median delays from arrest to committal, and from committal to outcome varied considerably between Registries.

Because of the small number of cases finalised in the NSW Supreme Court the median delay from arrest to committal and from committal to outcome can fluctuate considerably from year to year. There was generally an increase in the median delays for both trial and sentence matters for persons on bail. The biggest increases were for cases proceeding to sentence only. Median delay from arrest to committal rose by 28.5 per cent (from 158.0 days in 1998 to 203.0 days in 1999) while median delay from committal to outcome for cases proceeding to sentence only, increased by 28.9 per cent (from 340.5 days in 1998 to 439.0 days in 1999). Note that these figures are based on a total of only 6 cases in 1998 and 18 cases in 1999.

For persons in custody the median delays fell both for those proceeding to trial and for those proceeding to sentence only before the Supreme Court. The median delay from arrest to committal decreased by 52.4 per cent where the defendant was acquitted of all charges (from 177.5 days in 1998 to 84.5 days in 1999), by 27.9 per cent where the defendant was found guilty of at least one charge (from 159.5 days in 1998 to 115.0 days in 1999) and by 17.8 per cent where the person proceeded to sentence only (from 165.5 days in 1998 to 136.0 days in 1999). The median delay from committal to outcome, for persons in custody, decreased by 20.6 per cent where the defendant was acquitted of all charges (from 436.0 days in 1998 to 346.0 days in 1999), by 24.4 per cent where the defendant was found guilty of at least one charge (from 604.5 days in 1998 to 457.0 days in 1999) and by 5.4 per cent where the person proceeded to sentence only (from 428.0 days in 1998 to 405.0 days in 1999).

Appeals (Tables 3.15 and 3.16)

Tables 3.15 and 3.16 detail the outcomes of appeals to the District Court against convictions or severity or leniency of sentences imposed in the Local Courts in 1999. There was a 3.6 per cent decrease between 1998 and 1999 in the number of appeals against conviction finalised, from 2,004 in 1998 to 1,932 in 1999. Of these 1,932 appeals in 1999, in 26.9 per cent of cases the appeal was upheld for all matters, and in 64.6 per cent of cases the appeal was dismissed or withdrawn for all matters (25.5% and 66.8%, respectively, in 1998).

Between 1998 and 1999, there was a 12.8 per cent increase in the total number of appeals against sentence finalised, from 4,217 in 1998 to 4,758 in 1999. In less than one per cent of cases in 1999, the appeal was upheld for all matters, and in 94.4 per cent of cases, the appeal was dismissed or withdrawn for all matters (0.7% and 95.3% in 1998).

PERSONS CHARGED AND CHARGES

Charge

A charge refers to an instance of a particular type of offence being charged against a person. A finalised charge is one which has been fully determined by the court and for which no further court proceedings are required.

Where there are multiple counts of the same offence (i.e. charged under the same Act and Section) and each count receives the same outcome, the multiple counts are treated as a single charge. Where multiple counts of the same offence have different outcomes, they are counted as separate charges.

Persons charged

A person charged refers to a group of one or more charges, against a single individual, which are finalised by the court on a single day. Such a group of finalised charges against a single individual is also referred to as a finalised court appearance. (A company charged with an offence is treated as a person.)

This report does not distinguish 'distinct' persons within the counting period. If a person is a defendant in more than one court appearance during the counting period, such a person will be counted more than once in the report.

Table 1.1 shows the numbers of persons charged with offences within particular offence groups. This table counts individuals more than once, in all cases where the accused was charged with more than one offence and those offences fall within different offence groups. However, individuals are counted only once in the overall total.

Type of offence

Offence groups in the Local Courts tables are based on the Australian National Classification of Offences (ANCO) issued by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS 1985, Cat. No. 1234.0). The coding system does not correspond to any single ANCO level but is structured to give more detailed information on those types of offence which form a large proportion of the workload of the Local Courts.

Note: the Bureau has offence information at the level of Act and Section. Information at this level of detail can be obtained by contacting the Information Officer.

Sexual offences against children

In Table 1.1 and elsewhere in this section, the numbers of charges and persons charged for offences classified as sexual offences against children are shown separately from the general sexual assault category. Some charges which have been laid under Section 61I (sexual intercourse without consent) and Section 61L (indecent assault) of the Crimes Act 1900, however, may have involved child victims. Since such offences are counted in the sexual assault category in this report, the frequency within the sexual offences against children classification is subject to undercounting.

EXPLANATORY NOTES: LOCAL COURTS TABLES

OUTCOME OF CHARGE

Table 1.2 shows the court outcomes for all charges. Where a person was charged with more than one offence, each offence is counted separately. Those cases resulting in dismissal of the charge are separated from those in which the offence was proven. A charge can be dismissed by the court after a hearing, or where the prosecution elects to withdraw the charge due to insufficient evidence, or for some other reason, such as the death of the accused. A matter can also be stood out of the court list for various reasons; this outcome allows the prosecution to re-enter the matter at a later time.

Sections 32 and 33 are sections of the Mental Health (Criminal Procedure) Act 1990 (No. 10). Under Section 32 the Court can dismiss the charge and discharge a defendant who is suffering from a mental illness. Under Section 33, a magistrate can order a mentally ill defendant to be detained in a hospital for an assessment; or discharge the defendant, either unconditionally, or conditionally into the care of a responsible person.

TABLES 1.3 AND 1.4:
OUTCOME OF APPEARANCE

Table 1.3 presents the major outcome of the court process for individual persons charged. Table 1.4 presents this information for those persons who identified themselves as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islanders. Note that, in general, defendants are only able to identify themselves as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islanders if they have been proceeded against by way of a charge or Court Attendance Notice (rather than by a summons).

Those appearances which involved a defended hearing are separated from those where the accused was convicted ex parte or pleaded guilty to all charges. Separate categories are also included where the charges were dismissed without a defended hearing or were otherwise disposed of. The possible outcome types are as follows.

Proceeded to defended hearing

All charges dismissed: Appearances in this category involved the accused being found not guilty of any offence, following a defended hearing. Such appearances may have included some charges being dismissed without hearing.

Guilty of at least one charge: In this category the accused pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty by the court of at least one of the offences charged.

Other: Appearances in this category include persons for whom one or more charges were dismissed after a defended hearing, but who either (i) pleaded guilty to other charges or (ii) were convicted ex parte of other charges.

Convicted ex parte

This category includes cases where the accused either (i) pleaded guilty and was convicted in his/her absence, or (ii) failed to appear and was convicted by the court on the evidence presented.

All charges dismissed without hearing

This category includes cases where all charges were dismissed by the court, but there was no defended hearing.

Sentenced after guilty plea

Appearances in this category include those cases where the accused pleaded guilty to at least one charge, and any other charges were dismissed or otherwise disposed of.

All charges otherwise disposed of

This category includes cases where the charges were stood out of the list, the recognizance was forfeited, or where the accused died prior to finalisation of the case.

TABLES 1.5 AND 1.6: LEGAL REPRESENTATION AND BAIL STATUS

---

Tables 1.5 and 1.6 present the outcome for each appearance by legal representation and the bail status of the accused respectively.

Bail status

Bail status refers to the status of the accused at the final appearance. Those remanded in custody (bail refused) are distinguished from those people who were on bail and those for whom either bail had been dispensed with or who had received a summons. Those persons in gaol for a previous offence are regarded as being of equivalent status to those on bail in terms of receiving priority for a Local Court hearing. (For this reason they are excluded from the gaol category in the court delay table, Table 1.15.)

TABLES 1.7 TO 1.12: PENALTIES IMPOSED FOR PRINCIPAL OFFENCE

Persons found guilty

Persons found guilty are those persons who, for at least one offence charged, either pleaded guilty, were found guilty ex parte, or were found guilty after a defended hearing.

Principal offence

Appendix 1 provides explanations of the penalty types used in the Local Courts. Penalties shown in the tables indicate the principal penalty imposed for the principal offence. The principal offence is defined to be that offence charged, which received the most serious penalty according to the following rules:

- (a) Where an offender was found guilty of more than one offence, that offence which received the most serious penalty type is the principal offence. Appendix 2 lists the hierarchy of penalty type seriousness used for this calculation.
- (b) Where there were two or more offences which received the same penalty type, that offence which received the greatest quantum of that penalty type is the principal offence. (Note that for this calculation, if multiple counts of the same offence type received different penalties, they are treated as separate offences.)
- (c) If there was more than one offence which received the same quantum of the same penalty type, the first of these offences recorded on the court file is selected as the principal offence.
- (d) Where an offence received more than one penalty, a principal penalty for that offence is first calculated following the rules set out above. The determination of principal offence is then calculated on the principal penalty for each offence.

Quantum of penalty

Table 1.11 shows the average duration of principal penalties which involve a time component and the average dollar amount of fines imposed, where a fine was the principal penalty. Table 1.12 presents this information for those persons who identified themselves as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islanders.

Imprisonment

Where imprisonment is the principal penalty imposed for the principal offence the sentence may be for a fixed term or a minimum and additional term. For sentences of imprisonment of six months or less, the term is automatically fixed. For sentences of over six months, the court must provide reasons as to why a fixed term, rather than a minimum term and additional term is being applied. The average durations shown in Tables 1.11 and 1.12 include only the minimum term where a minimum and additional term of imprisonment has been imposed as the principal penalty for the principal offence. Cumulative terms of imprisonment are excluded from these tables. In those cases where a cumulative term was imposed, only the penalty for the principal offence is shown. Note that a maximum of two years of imprisonment can be imposed in the Local Courts for any one offence.

Community Service Order (CSO)

Where a CSO is the principal penalty imposed for the principal offence a maximum of 500 hours of community service can be imposed on any one occasion.

TABLE 1.15:
COURT DELAY

This table gives an indication of the time taken to dispose of a case for defended and undefended hearings by bail status at final appearance. It shows the median number of days taken at each stage of proceedings. The median delay is used in preference to the average delay because there may be a small number of cases with very long delays. (The definition of median is such that half the cases had delays less than the median value and the other half had longer delays.) Where a person's bail status changed in the course of the proceedings the delay may have been affected.

Excluded from this table are some persons who were in custody for another offence, as this fact will have altered the duration of proceedings for these cases.

TABLES 1.16 AND 1.17:
STATISTICAL DIVISION OF RESIDENCE

These tables indicate the Statistical Division within which the residence of the accused falls. Within the Sydney Statistical Division, the Subdivisions are shown, to provide more detail. In these tables, appearances are excluded if the accused resided interstate, overseas or in an institution, had no fixed place of abode, or if the area of residence was unknown.

Table 1.16 shows the number and rate per 100,000 population of Local Court appearances by the area of residence of the accused.

Table 1.17 presents, for those accused who were found guilty, rates per 100,000 population by the area of residence and the type of principal offence.

TABLE 1.18:
APPREHENDED VIOLENCE ORDERS

Table 1.18 counts only those orders finalised by a magistrate at a Local Court hearing. It does not include interim orders granted.

An Apprehended Violence Order may protect more than one person. For the purposes of Table 1.18, the residence of only one protected person has been included for each order.

* 'Persons charged' counts the number of people charged with the specified offence. A person who is charged with more than one offence within an offence group (for example, a person charged with both break and enter and vehicle theft) is counted only once in the offence group total. Hence the numbers within an offence group do not sum to the offence group total. The grand total is a count of the total number of distinct persons charged in Local Court appearances. For 'charges', all totals simply sum over the categories.

** In previous reports of this series a maximum of four charges was counted for each defendant. In the current year all charges are counted for defendants appearing in courts where the computerised General Local Courts (GLC) system is in use.

NEW SOUTH WALES CHILDREN'S COURTS

Explanatory notes and tables

EXPLANATORY NOTES: CHILDREN'S COURTS TABLES

Children's Courts data are provided by the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ), which has been responsible for the administration of juvenile justice since 1991. Juveniles aged 10 to 17 years who allegedly offend against the criminal laws may be brought before the Children's Courts, referred to a Youth Justice Conference or, for relatively minor offences, may be dealt with by a system of formal police cautions. This report deals only with court appearances and does not include figures on police cautions.

Juveniles may also appear before the Children's Courts for complaints under the Children (Care and Protection) Act 1987. These matters deal with issues such as truancy or neglect. As welfare matters are the responsibility of the Department of Community Services, rather than the Department of Juvenile Justice, and do not constitute criminal proceedings, they are not included in this report.

APPEARANCES AND OFFENCES PROVEN, BY PRINCIPAL OFFENCE

---

Table 2.1 provides information on the numbers of criminal matters before the Children's Court 1998/1999.

Appearance and principal offence

An appearance is defined as a group of one or more charges against an individual, disposed of by the Children's Courts. If more than one offence was finalised at that appearance the principal offence is the offence with the most serious outcome or severity. If more than one offence received the same outcome then the most serious offence is calculated as the one with the lowest Australian Standard Offence Classification (ASOC) code. For juveniles with multiple charges only the principal offence is presented in this table.

Offence proven

Proven offences include those appearances resulting in domestic violence orders, referral to drug programs, return to former custody, revoked or amended community service orders and referrals to other jurisdictions.

Type of offence

In this and subsequent tables, the type of offence charged is the principal offence charged.

From July 1997 the DJJ has recorded offences using the NSW Lawcodes and aggregated these offences using the ASOC codes. In previous years the offence coding was based on the less detailed Draft National Classification of Offences (DANCO).

EXPLANATORY NOTES: CHILDREN'S COURTS TABLES

The offence categories appearing in this table represent a further aggregation as follows:

- The category 'assault' includes aggravated assault and non-aggravated assault.
- The 'sexual offences' category includes aggravated sexual assault, non-aggravated sexual assault and non-assaultive sexual offences.
- The 'other offences against the person' category includes acts intended to cause injury, and other dangerous or negligent acts endangering persons.
- The 'robbery' category includes aggravated robbery and non-aggravated robbery.
- The 'motor vehicle theft' category includes theft of motor vehicle and illegal use of motor vehicle.
- The 'other theft' category includes theft not elsewhere classified and theft of intellectual property.
- The 'other property damage' category includes graffiti and property damage not elsewhere classified.

BAIL STATUS AT FINAL APPEARANCE, SEX

Table 2.2 includes both those accused for whom a bail decision was made and those accused whose cases resulted from a summons or court attendance notice.

TYPE OF PRINCIPAL OFFENCE, PENALTY FOR PRINCIPAL OFFENCE

Penalties

'Control order' is a custodial penalty; it includes fixed term, minimum and additional term with DJJ supervision, minimum and additional term with other supervision and minimum and additional term with no supervision.

'Probation' includes probation orders with DJJ supervision, probation orders with other supervision and probation without supervision.

'Recognizance and fine' includes a fine and a recognizance Children (Criminal Proceedings) Act 1987 s. 33(i)(d).

EXPLANATORY NOTES: CHILDREN'S COURTS TABLES

'Recognizance' includes recognizance, deferred sentence (s.558), suspended committal and conditional discharge, with supervision and without supervision.

'Dismissed with caution' includes dismissed with a caution and admonished and discharged.

'Other proven outcomes' includes domestic violence order, periodic/weekly detention, drug program, disqualified driver, returned to former custody, compensation, committed to the rising of the court, committed to higher court, remitted to local court and community service order revoked or amended.

TABLES 2.4, 2.4a AND 2.4b: TYPE OF OFFENCE, SEX, AGE

These tables detail the age and gender of all defendants appearing before the Children's Court including both proven and unproven outcome. The age category '18 years and over' which appears in these tables, refers to those alleged offenders who were under 18 years at the time of the alleged offence, but were 18 years or over at the time of the finalisation of the matter.

NEW SOUTH WALES HIGHER COURTS

Explanatory notes and tables

EXPANATORY NOTES: HIGHER COURTS TABLES

TABLES 3.1 AND 3.2: CASES APPEARING IN HIGHER CRIMINAL COURTS

Jurisdiction

There are two jurisdictions in the NSW Higher Courts, the Supreme Court which hears cases in Sydney and on circuit in country centres periodically, and the District Court which has a number of metropolitan and country sites. The Supreme Court deals only with the most serious matters such as murder, and some serious drug offences. The District Court deals with all other matters on indictment and appeals against conviction or sentence arising from Local Court cases.

Registry

Registries handle the administrative work involved in preparing a case for trial. The District Court is regionalised into a number of Registries. Appendix 3 lists the various courts which fall within each Registry's administrative area.

Case

Court workload is usually measured by the number of cases. A case is defined to be all matters, involving one or more accused persons, each with one or more charges, which are recorded together on a single court file.

A case is finalised when one or more charges against one or more accused is dealt with by the court in the reporting period.

For cases where there are remaining defendants with outstanding charges or where there are outstanding charges against an accused, a new case is counted in a subsequent counting period.

For this reason there is not necessarily a direct relationship between the incoming cases registered, shown in Table 3.1 and finalised cases shown in Table 3.2.

Committal

Cases normally appear before the Higher Courts following a committal hearing in the Local Courts. A committal involves a preliminary hearing by a magistrate of the evidence against the accused. If the accused pleads guilty at the committal hearing he or she may be committed for sentencing to a Higher Court. Alternatively, if the defendant pleads not guilty, or reserves his or her defence, he or she is committed for trial. Cases which do not proceed beyond committal are not included in this report.

EXPLANATORY NOTES: HIGHER COURTS TABLES

TABLES 3.3 AND 3.4: PERSONS AND CHARGES IN TRIAL AND SENTENCE CASES

Persons charged

In these and subsequent tables, information is shown for individual persons within finalised cases. As described in the section on cases, a case may involve one or more accused persons. Thus, the total number of persons indicated in these tables is greater than the total number of cases.

This report does not distinguish 'distinct' persons within the counting period. If a person is a defendant in more than one case during the counting period, such a person will be counted more than once in the report.

Note that Table 3.4, which shows the number of persons charged with offences within a particular offence group, counts individuals more than once in all cases where the accused was charged with more than one offence and those offences fall within different groups. However, persons are counted only once in the overall total.

Year of committal

Year of committal is included to provide some indication of the length of time cases normally require to be processed in the Higher Courts. More detailed information on this subject is provided in Tables 3.14a to 3.14h.

Type of offence

Offence groups in Table 3.4 and subsequent tables are based on the Australian National Classification of Offences (ANCO) issued by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS 1985, Cat. No. 1234.0). The ANCO system has three hierarchical levels of offences. The first level has nine general groupings. There is a more detailed breakdown within these groups, at the second level of the hierarchy, and a third level of detail within the second level groupings. Tables in this report generally use the offence groupings at the second ANCO level.

Note: The classifications used in this report have been altered slightly from those used in the ANCO system. The differences from the ANCO classification are as follows:

- a) Sexual offences against children are shown separately from the general sexual assault category. Some charges which have been laid under Section 61I (sexual intercourse without consent) and Section 61L (indecent assault) of the Crimes Act 1900, however, may have involved child victims. Since such offences are counted in the sexual assault category in this report, the frequency within the sexual offences against children classification is subject to undercounting.
- b) The drug offence categories include substance type as a part of the offence category. This is so that sentences for offences involving different drug types can be separately examined.

EXPANATORY NOTES: HIGHER COURTS TABLES

- c) The categories of 'environmental offences', 'offences against government security', 'company offences' and 'banking, financial offences' have all been merged into the category of 'other offences'. This is due to the small numbers of cases which are normally present in these categories. Information on these offence categories can be obtained by contacting the Bureau.

Note: The Bureau's data collection has information on offences with sufficient detail to determine charges by individual Act and Section. Information on specific charges can be obtained by contacting the Bureau.

TABLE 3.5:
NUMBER OF OFFENCES CHARGED

---

Table 3.5 indicates the number of distinct offences charged against each accused. Where there were multiple counts of the same offence (i.e. charged under the same Act and Section) and each count had the same outcome, the multiple counts are counted as a single charge. Where charges of the same type had different outcomes, they are counted as separate charges.

---

OUTCOME OF CHARGE

---

Table 3.6 presents the major outcome of the court process for each defendant. Those cases which involved a trial before a judge and jury (or a judge alone) are separated from those where the accused pleaded guilty to all charges, where the charges were not proceeded with, or where the charges were otherwise disposed of. Possible outcome types are as follows:

Proceeded to trial

Acquitted of all charges: Cases in this category involved the accused being found not guilty of any offence, following a trial. Such cases may have included some charges not being proceeded with or being otherwise disposed of.

Found guilty of at least one charge: In this category, cases proceeded to a trial, and the defendant was found guilty of at least one of the offences charged.

Other: Cases in the 'Other' category are those where the accused was acquitted of one or more charges following a trial, but pleaded guilty to at least one other charge.

EXPLANATORY NOTES: HIGHER COURTS TABLES

Proceeded to sentence only

Cases in this category involved a plea of guilty by the defendant to at least one charge. Other offences may have been disposed of other than by trial or not proceeded with.

No charges proceeded with

Cases in this category did not proceed to trial. The charges were not proceeded with by the Director of Public Prosecutions.

All charges otherwise disposed of

Included in this category are cases where the accused died or absconded.

TABLES 3.7, 3.8 AND 3.9: PENALTIES IMPOSED FOR PRINCIPAL OFFENCE

---

Persons found guilty

Persons found guilty are those persons who, for at least one offence charged, either pleaded guilty or were found guilty by trial.

Principal offence

Appendix 1 provides explanations of the penalty types. Penalties shown in the tables indicate the principal penalty imposed on the principal offence. The principal offence is defined to be that offence charged which received the most serious penalty according to the following rules:

- a) Where an offender was found guilty of more than one offence, that offence which received the most serious penalty type is the principal offence. Appendix 2 lists the hierarchy of penalty type seriousness used for this calculation.
- b) Where there were two or more offences which received the same penalty type, that offence which received the greatest quantum of that penalty type is the principal offence.
- c) If there was more than one offence which received the same quantum of the same penalty type, the last of these offences recorded on the indictment is selected as the principal offence.
- d) Where an offence received more than one penalty, a principal penalty for that offence is first calculated following the rules set out above. The determination of principal offence is thus calculated on the principal penalty for each offence.

EXPANATORY NOTES: HIGHER COURTS TABLES

Quantum of penalty

Table 3.9 shows the average duration of principal penalties which involve a time component and the average dollar amount of fines imposed, where a fine was the principal penalty

Duration of imprisonment

Average duration of imprisonment in Table 3.9 is the mean length of time in months of the minimum or fixed term of imprisonment imposed on the principal offence. As imprisonment is the most serious penalty which can be imposed, Table 3.8 includes all charges where an imprisonment penalty was imposed. Excluded from this table are sentences of cumulative imprisonment. In those cases where a cumulative term was imposed, only the penalty for the principal offence is shown.

Tables 3.7, 3.8 and 3.9 do not report on cases where the prison sentence was not imposed under the Sentencing Act 1989.

TABLE: 3.10:
PRIOR CONVICTIONS

---

Table 3.10 provides information on the history of prior convictions of those persons found guilty. The following categories are used:

No prior convictions

Persons in this category had no prior convictions of any kind at the time of sentencing.

Prior convictions, not of the same type

Persons in this category had a history of prior convictions, but none of these convictions was of the same general type as the principal offence receiving sentence on this occasion. This category can include convictions which resulted in a gaol term as well as non-custodial penalties.

Prior convictions of the same type

In this category are persons who had been convicted of an offence of the same general type as the principal offence, on a previous occasion, but not sentenced to a period of imprisonment for that offence.

Prior convictions of the same type, with imprisonment

Persons in this category were convicted of an offence of the same general type as the principal offence, on a previous occasion, and in addition, had received a custodial penalty on at least one occasion, for an offence of this type.

TABLE 3.13:
BAIL STATUS

---

Table 3.13 indicates the bail status of the defendant at the hearing which disposed of the matter. The bail categories distinguish broadly between defendants who were at large or in custody, and additionally for those at large, whether or not they were supervised.

---

TABLE 3.14 AND 3.14a TO 3.14h:

These tables give an indication of the time taken to dispose of a case for defended and undefended cases by bail status at final appearance. They show the median number of days taken at each stage of proceedings. The median delay is used in preference to the average delay because there may be a small number of cases with very long delays. (The definition of median is such that half the cases had delays less than the median delay and the other half of the cases had longer delays.) Where a person's bail status changed in the course of the trial the duration of proceedings may have been affected.

The outcome categories are used to distinguish those cases which involved a trial. The stages of proceedings are categorised as follows:

Arrest to committal

The time from date of arrest to date committed for trial in Local Court.

Committal to outcome

The time from date committed to latest date of determination of charges. (Note that it is not possible to distinguish whether the defendant altered his or her plea during the course of proceedings. Such a change of plea would be expected to alter the time taken to dispose of the case.)

Outcome to sentence

The time from latest date of determination of charges (guilty plea or verdict) to date of sentence. (This category is applicable only to those defendants who were found guilty.)

Those who were in custody for another offence during the course of the trial were excluded from the delay calculations, as were those who absconded at some stage in proceedings.

The category 'proceeded to sentence only' includes, in addition to guilty pleas, cases where the plea was changed from not guilty to guilty in the course of the trial. Some of these matters could, therefore, be expected to take longer to dispose of than matters originally committed for sentence.

TABLES 3.15 AND 3.16: APPEALS AGAINST CONVICTION AND SEVERITY OF SENTENCE

Tables 3.15 and 3.16 present the outcomes for appeals to the District Court against convictions or severity of sentences imposed in the Local Courts.

The appeal outcome categories are as follows:

Appeal upheld for all matters

This category indicates that:

- 1) the conviction was overturned, for an appeal against conviction;
  - or 2) the penalty was varied, for a severity appeal
- for all charges appealed against.

Appeal dismissed/withdrawn for all matters

This indicates that the court dismissed the appeal for all the charges appealed against or that the appellant withdrew the appeal.

Appeal upheld for some matters

This indicates that the court dismissed the appeal on some charges but upheld the appeal for at least one charge.

Other

This indicates that the appeal was dismissed due to non-appearance of the appellant or that a bench warrant was issued or that the appellant died.

* 'Persons charged' counts the number of people charged with the specified offence. A person who is charged with more than one offence within an offence group (for example, a person charged with both break and enter and vehicle theft) is counted only once in the offence group total. Hence the numbers within an offence group do not sum to the offence group total. The grand total is a count of the total number of distinct persons charged in Local Court appearances. For 'charges', all totals simply sum over the categories.

NOTES ON PENALTIES

Unlike the self-explanatory penalties, such as fines and imprisonment, the following court actions may need some explanation.

Held in custody (Mental Health (Criminal Procedure) Act 1990)

This is the term used for the detention of a mentally ill person who has been charged with offences but has been found by the court to be either unfit to plead or 'not guilty by reason of mental illness'. Such persons may be held in custody for an indeterminate period.

Home detention

The Home Detention Act 1996 and Home Detention Regulation 1997 came into effect on 21 February 1997, establishing a Home Detention Order as an alternative means of serving sentences of full-time imprisonment of up to 18 months. The conditions of the Order constrain the offender's liberty to an extent that approximates confinement in minimum security custody with access to day release programs.

Periodic detention

The offender is held in custody in prison periodically (at weekends for example) for a specified period.

Community Service Order

The offender is ordered to perform a specified number of hours of unpaid community service work.

Recognizance

There are several different types of recognizances, or 'bonds', which may be imposed by a court. Generally speaking they all require the offender to be 'of good behaviour' for a certain length of time and may impose other conditions as well. Common conditions include that the offender:

- report to the Probation and Parole Service on a regular basis (recognizance with supervision);
- attend alcohol counselling;
- reside in a certain area; etc.

Depending on the kind of recognizance the court imposes, a sum of money is usually fixed at the time of sentencing by the court and indicates the amount the offender will be liable to pay if any conditions of the recognizance are breached. Such payment by the offender will, of course, be in addition to any other sanction which breach of the recognizance might attract.

S.20 (Commonwealth) Conditional release after sentence

This is a form of recognizance imposed after a prison term has been served.

Deferred sentences

Under Section 558 of the Crimes Act 1900, a certain type of recognizance may be imposed which is referred to as a 'deferred sentence'. In addition to having to pay any monetary penalty, a breach of the conditions of the recognizance may lead to the offender being called upon for sentencing on the original offence.

556A dismissal/recognizance

Under Section 556A of the Crimes Act 1900, the court may, where it finds a charge proved, elect not to proceed to a conviction, but to either discharge the offender with no penalty, with some nominal penalty, or with a recognizance to be of good behaviour (see above).

Rising of the Court

This is a nominal penalty where the offender is held in custody until the court adjourns.
